Office—Temple, Main and New High.

The Newhall extension is booming right ahead.

One Michigan woman got ahead of the lawyers in statesmanlike shape.

There is desperate work going on to save the Chicago Anarchists. The sooner they dangle the better for the country.

The latest from New York is that the jury in the case of Boosler McQuade is "hung." If it isn't, it ought to be.

ANOTHER of the ablest railroad managers in the country has gone, in the person of Hoxie, Gould's right-hand man.

CLEVELAND read part of his annual message yesterday to his unfortunate Cabinet. Bulletins from the physicians will begin to arrive to-night.

A SLIGHT unpleasantry in which nine thousand men got killed shows that Africa intends to run Kentucky a close second in the race for distinction.

THAT was a ducce of a way the two Sacramento farmers took to settle their claims to a young woman's hand. They played a game of poker for her, and she took the winner.

THE San Bernardino Times doesn't care where all these railroads terminate, so long as they pass through San Bernardino. It further remarks that in the saccharine subsequently Berdoon will be to Los Angeles what Los Angeles now is to San Francisco. Come on, Br'er Berdoon—plenty of room up front.

ONE of the persons connected with the recent anti-Goldenberger mob in San Francisco was arrested yesterday for riot. The trouble with San Francisco, as respects criminals, is not so much in the failure to arrest as in the tendency of Justice to take a rest immediately and permanently thereafter.

WITH a fair election and an honest count the Republicans will carry Tennessee, Louisiana and Virginia for their candidate in 1888. The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle says: "Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina appear to be in a very shaky condition from a Democratic standpoint. This rude reminder may be sufficient to warn the party that there is danger ahead in 1888." Yes, indeed, Bourbon brother!

AMONG the wonderful disclosures of the election is that of the result in North Carolina, where the State Republican Committee refused to even call a State Convention to nominate a ticket, and it came so near being elected, and the Legislature so near being Republican, as to make Bourbonism shake in its boots. To make things sure in one Congressional district the Democratic canvassers threw out the votes of enough precincts to insure the election of the Democratic candidate on the ground that the colored men intimidated other voters. This would be an elegant district for the Akhond of Swat to run in—suit him to a dot.

Returned to the Returns.

(San Diego Union.)

The Los Angeles Herald, Mr. Lynch's paper, yesterday contained the following communiqué:

To the Voters of the Sixth Congressional District of California: Having received a majority of the votes cast in this district by qualified voters for member of the United States House of Representatives, I intend, God willing, to get a seat. Friends of an unexampled character have been instrumental in getting me to beat me, but without avail. The Constitution of the United States makes each House of Congress the absolute judge of the qualifications of its members. I have been granted a fair count in recognition of the duty I owe to my constituents and to myself.

JOSEPH D. LYNNCH.
When Mr. Lynch, the San Diego man, at the election of the count that conclusively decided his defeat, he claimed, without condition, that he was Congressman-elect for the Sixth District. It will be observed on reading his claim that he has been elected to beat me, but without avail. The Constitution of the United States makes each House of Congress the absolute judge of the qualifications of its members. I have been granted a fair count in recognition of the duty I owe to my constituents and to myself.

Whether or not Mr. Lynch, Brown, Pether, or Brown James Pether, or whatever it may be, has entered into a contract to go upon the stage as a professional actress, he just now violently agitating New York journalism. A long-range reflection on the subject may not be necessary, but we observe that a certificate us to the merits of a certain toilet article for improving the complexion, signed by the lady in question, has broken out in the advertising columns of the papers like a nettle rash.

The next step after this is usually big litho portraits for saloon and restaurant windows.

Frigid Train Wrecked.

TCOSOS (Ariz.), Nov. 23.—The eastbound freight was wrecked, eight miles east of San Simon, this morning. Brakeman Hamlin was badly scalded. Seven freight cars were wrecked. The cause was spreading of the rails.

A cold blizzard has struck this section.

The Influence of the United Labor Party on Their Side.

The Governor to be Urged to Commute the Death Sentence.

The Lawyers also at Work Trying to Obtain a New Trial—Hard Fight to Save the Neck of the Condemned Bomb Throwers.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—(By the Western Associated Press.) The Amnesty Association, a society recently formed to assist the movement in favor of the condemned anarchists, held a meeting to-night, at which the principal speakers were State Representatives—select Charles G. Dickson, M. J. Dwyer, George Borbæk and Senator R. M. Burk, each of whom was a successful candidate on the United Labor ticket in the recent election. While disclaiming the acts of the Anarchists or Communists, as they understand those terms, the speakers vehemently denounced the verdict in the Anarchist trial and demanded a commutation of the sentence. The belief was asserted that if the condemned men were sent to the penitentiary now they would be in the near future paroled. All the speakers declared that the $25,000 offered for the United Labor ticket were cast as a protest against the verdict.

TO PETITION THE GOVERNOR.

It was decided by the meeting that the entire delegation selected by the United Labor party would present a petition to Gov. Oglesby, asking executive clemency. A committee was appointed to arrange a mass meeting to protest against the verdict, in case a superseding is not granted by some one of the Supreme Court Judges. About 100 persons were present at to-night's meeting.

WORKING FOR AN APPEAL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Application for a superseding was made before Justice Scott, of the Illinois Supreme Court, to-day, in the case of the seven condemned Anarchists. The matter is not yet decided.

The Northern Pacific is experiencing some trouble with the snow, which is drifting and delaying trains.

Throughout the entire line the mercury is down in the morning and up in the afternoon. It is now snowing nearly all day along the line of the St. Paul and Pacific, but the fall has not been heavy enough to interfere with travel. The mercury ranges from 10 to 30 degrees above zero.

REVOLT AGAINST PORTUGUESE RULE IN AFRICA.

Bloody Battle between Natives and Whites — The Portuguese Badly Beaten — Heavy Losses on Both Sides—Other News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—[By Cable.] Advices from Durban, November 23, state that a general and apparently successful revolt is in progress among the natives against the Portuguese authority in Southeastern Africa. The American missionary, Rev. Mr. Wilcox, has arrived in Durban from the Portuguese settlement on the east coast, above Transvaal. He reports as follows: The natives at Inhambane, a Portuguese port town, 200 miles above Delagoa bay, rose up against the Portuguese and murdered the collector of taxes. On October 22, 200 natives were killed, 2000 Portuguese and friendly natives on one side, and 30,000 hostile natives on the other. The Portuguese were defeated and routed, and the loss on both sides is estimated at 2000 men. The native chief, the Governor of Mozambique has gone into the country to endeavor to suppress the revolt and save the port of Inhambane from falling into the hands of the insurgents. The town was captured by the natives, the military had withdrawn from it, and the women and children had been removed to the ships lying in the roadstead. The entire country round about the town had already been abandoned by the Portuguese, and arrangements had been made for the safe repatriation of Inhambane out to sea if the hostile natives attacked the town in force.

A SAD REPORT.

Ex-Vice-President Wheeler Said to be Physical Wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—[By the Western Associated Press.] A special dispatch to the Chronicle says: "A correspondent at Malone, N. Y., telegraphs that ex-Vice-President Wheeler is approaching a state of physical collapse, his condition being regarded as most serious. For years Mr. Wheeler has been a victim of insomnia, and it is now on the lips of the gossiping that his decline has been hastened by the use of opiates taken to induce sleep. The correspondence of the late Dr. John E. Hale of Malone is said and pains to narrate. His physician is reticent, but, he says, what it may, the fact remains that the once strong and aggressive political leader is now a wreck of humanity. Not a night passes that his physician does not attend and assist the sufferer to procure a semblance of sleep.

NEW METHOD OF ARCTIC EXPLORATION.

HALIFAX, Nov. 23.—Lieut. Peary, who has been on an expedition to Greenland for the purpose of satisfying himself as to the feasibility of traveling across the country and thus opening a new route for Arctic explorers, arrived here yesterday on his way to his home in the United States. His observations from journeys made satisfied him that Greenland could be crossed from west to east by expeditions on the north pole. He has been sailing in a boat a point 100 miles inland, the elevation above the sea was found by Peary to be 7500 feet.

GENERAL MANAGER HOXIE DEAD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—H. M. Hoxie, general manager of the Gould Southern system, died this morning at the Broadway Hotel.

Hoxie died from exhaustion consequent on an operation performed on him at Saratoga in June last. He has also suffered from kidney disease for the last thirty-five years. He had been very weak for the seven days, but his doctors had great hopes of his recovery.

OLD JONES.

ANOTHER DAY PASSED IN PROBING HIS MENTAL CONDITION.

The rehearing of the Jones' sanity case, before a new jury, was in progress yesterday, and will be continued to-day. Very little of the same evidence was offered that has already been printed in THE TIMES. Following are the names of the new jurors: Messrs. David, Harris, D. Botsellier, E. Stokes, J. F. Ames, O. H. Bliss, Jno. D. Cook, R. Miller, L. H. Emerson, C. B. Woodhead, N. P. Campbell, Ben Chadwick and H. Gilbert. On behalf of the prisoners the following witnesses were examined: Geo. E. Howland, R. B. Russell, J. F. Darrell, G. H. Howland, (recently deceased), M. L. Parker, John M. McInally, J. H. Snyder, Wm. Riles, Warren Alexander, F. B. Clark, H. W. Hill, Wm. G. Empolage, Harry McDonald. The doctors all testified after an examination of Jones that they believed he was sane and responsible for his acts. District Attorney Holton made a warm ten-minute speech, pretty thoroughly knocking out the theory of the defense. He called particular attention to the fact that he had the right to demand that the court turn to put Jones on the stand, as where the jury could judge for itself as to his mental condition.

Mr. Diehl, of the defense, having rested. The freight agents of this city have agreed to restore the rates and maintain them at 50 percent of the old tariff.

MURDER.

RESULT OF A DRUNKEN QUARREL IN BORON COUNTY.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

The Riverside Press says: "Word was brought to the city Saturday night that a man had been found dead at Gabalon, 20 miles from here, and yesterday morning the workmen went down to investigate the matter. The victim was an old man named Thomas Herring, who had been a practical spry for a number of years. He was 75 years old, and was before the coming on the charge of drunkenness. He was living in an old shanty at Gabalon, and the neighbors were accustomed to bring him food occasionally. On Saturday Mr. Herring was found lying on the ground outside his door, and when his son told him he would bring him some chicken soup for his dinner. On going with a pail of soup at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by Fred Stevens, they found the old man dead, killed by a charge of shot. On Sunday morning the coroner's jury found Sam Barnum, considerably under the influence of liquor, carrying a single-barrel breech-loading shotgun containing an empty shell. There was a bullet upon the gun and a bullet in a clothes. One bullet was dusty and the other had the appearance of having been recently washed. He was detained until the officers arrived and took him in charge. The body was brought to the city yesterday and on a coroner's inquest the verdict was that he had been murdered.

THE APPARITION OF THE PLACE WHERE THE CRIME WAS COMMITTED.—It is judged that Barnum and Herring were sitting on a couple of boxes with a bottle of whisky between them, and, getting into a drunken quarrel, the former raised his gun and shot his mate, who was then in charge. The body was brought to the city Saturday night.

Word was brought into town to-day that a man named Thomas Henning was murdered at the Gavilan mines, situated about twenty-five miles south of this place, last Saturday. We do not know the name of the man's son. We do not know what was used to do the deed with was a shotgun loaded with buckshot, and that Henning was completely dismembered by the charge. Officers are now in pursuit of the murderer, and it is thought he will soon be captured.

A BOYCOTT ON THE SANTA FE ROAD.

The merchants of Denning have organized a boycott against the Santa Fe road. The Headlight says that at a meeting attended by all the merchants and shippers residing there, it was agreed in future not to ship any merchandise over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad. It was also agreed that no future shipment of any kind will be sent by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, unless it is to be shipped over the Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific. California and Texas flour and sugar will be sent over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and Kansas products. This step was taken by the merchants on account of an imaginary hostility shown by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad toward the town.

IMPROVEMENTS.

What Creates Values in Town and Country.

(San Francisco Bulletin.)
Some of the old settlers in the southern part of the State were quite in the way of designating the recent immigration as "One-Lunged Yankees." But these people with one lung, or who have strong pulmonary tendencies, have brought about an industrial revolution of that part of the State. These people bought climate as the chief essential. They bought land as an incident. When they had made purchases they set themselves to the business of making improvements. They did not care a copper about any pioneer customs, prejudices or prepossessions. They fought their own prejudices and customs with them. It happened that these were of the better sort. The men and women with one lung were good for a great deal of planning and a great deal of work. The advantages of climate gave a new lease of life. The new lease was improved for the laying out of some of the handsomest villages and towns in California. Now, in almost every instance, these properties have doubled the value of their properties. Every dollar expended has added another dollar in value. This is a moderate way of putting the case. The real gain is much greater. What is the value to-day of Riverside, Pomona, Pasadena and a dozen other villages and towns in Southern California which are the product of this industrial evolution during the past ten years? Add to these the outside improvements in villas, orchards, roads, school houses, bridges, churches and so on, is fifty millions of additional wealth beyond the mark?

Now these settlements had been made by people who cared nothing for improvements dictated by good taste, only a small part of this value would now appear.

What have the "One-Lunged Yankees" done that they should be reminded of their infirmity in the matter of health rather than the wealth they have created? Thousands of this class of men and women have heretofore gone to Florida every winter season. But they have built up no new towns there. It does not appear that they have gone there to any great extent for permanent residence. It is certain that many who went with the possibility of staying did not remain there.

The land speculators were busy. But no such work has been wrought there as that which has been accomplished in Southern California. The difference is a striking one. In the first place, Florida is not as good a place for an invalid, or one threatened with pulmonary troubles, as California. Moreover, Florida is not a desirable place for a Northern man to live in the summer season. These facts have been found out by experience, and one need not tell them to go a great way to determine the character of immigrants.

The individual who goes to the new climate for a residence of three or four months makes no improvements. It is only when he goes to stay and buys land for homestead purposes that he starts out in the new race of improvements. That is just what has been done in Southern California, and just what was not done in Florida. The difference is a great and striking one. Save for the influx of winter guests, St. Augustine, St. John's and other cities in that State are not greatly different from the same places forty years ago. There is some increase of population, and some new orange orchards have been planted.

Now what has been done in Southern California can be done in various other parts of the State, where the climate is equally favorable for a renewal of life. We get a hint here of the creation of values. It does not result wholly or mainly from the caps which can be taken off a certain number of acres of land, but from the social and other advantages created which belong to the sum of town and village improvements. A shabby hamlet never draws people to it. Muddy mud, broken bridges, unsightly fences, tumble-down structures are not more inviting. These considerations have had much to do in stimulating improvements in many of the coast towns where now large numbers of summer visitors are entertained. Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara are illustrations in point. Values have doubled over and over again. One dollar invested in improving a street, sidewalk or lining it with ornamental trees, has returned in some instances more than ten in the enhanced price of real estate. But, aside from watering places, there are a hundred villages and towns in California which, nothing so much as the new fruit and vegetable gardens, have this new departure. The hand of improvement should be laid upon them. The dead hamlet can be made alive by just that kind of enterprise and good taste that has made a few towns so attractive. Nearly all the small towns and villages in this State are well located. They have good advantages for drainage, rock is abundant for streets and living water is not far off. When the population of a town is brought up to 1500, wells should be abandoned. They then become prolific sources of disease.

The truth is, California is more and more a great manufacturing center for nearly the whole country. Large hotels have already been constructed for the accommodation of winter guests.

A number of others are planned. But the large hotel, which in many respects is desirable, is not absolutely necessary. It is the clean village hotel, the improved streets, the orchards, the good roads and a hospitable population alive to local improvements, that most attract strangers.

Last winter it was estimated that not less than 50,000 persons came to California, principally from considerations of health and climate. This winter's drift will not be less, but will probably increase from year to year.

Free Speech in "Old Misery."

(Washington Star.)
Free speech is to be at a discount in Missouri. Representative Glover received a black eye in St. Louis on Saturday evening for exercising his privilege as a lawyer too freely in a case tried that day in court. In St. Joseph, the same afternoon, an editor was severely wounded by local residents as punishment for disparaging remarks published during the late campaign. If these were arguments, two such occurrences in one day would carry discouragement into the ranks of journalists and the law. But both professors have survived many years of persistent assault with worse weapons than the hand or the horsewhip, and there is no danger that the crude code of Missouri will frighten them out of existence.
